Promoting Agricultural Products through Recipes Using Local Ingredients

Recipes using local ingredients from the former Osuka Town

At Yokosuka High School, our students learned about local issues and agricultural products in their hometown of Kakegawa City (formerly Osuka Town), agricultural products around the world, and the reality of agriculture through lectures and research. Together, we devised recipes that make use of these local agricultural products. We also worked to promote the local agricultural products by entering the recipes in contests and selling the dishes at local events. We made multiple prototypes of the recipes we came up with, consistently working to make improvements where we could, aiming to make the appearance and taste more suitable for commercial use.

Recipes Developed by Us [Mainly using local ingredients]:

- Nasi goreng-style fried rice infused with green tea aroma [soy sauce/sugar]
- Chacha Churros [Tea grown using "Chagusaba" (Traditional tea-grass integrated system)]
- Chinese-style Mini Melon Bento [Mini Melon]
